

Explanation

---

ADVANTAGES

- Competent consulting
- Customer specific development and production in-house
- Latest manufacturing technology
- Use of the optimum materials
- Surface ground or fine milled
- Special press brake tools are hardened according to their working conditions
- In-house design and development department with state-of-the-art CAD and measurement technique
- Functional test and coordination through test bending with your sample sheets
- Extensive quality test and allocation of unique special tool number for registration of all special-press brake tools